

What Do I Need

- A sheet of paper
(or lots of sheets all stuck together if you want to do a life size one!)
- Felt tips pens or pencils.
- Chalk (optional) for outside.

What Do I Do

Let's try to draw bones on a body shape.

We are going to draw an outline body shape to get started. One sheet for a small outline - lots stuck together for a life size one.

If you have chalk you could do this outside on the pavement or the slabs on your garden patio.

Get someone to draw round you - a complete outline.

Now draw the bones...

Do you know where they all go?

Clavicle - perhaps the shoulder ?

Humerus - - upper arm

Radius - lower arm

Ulna - lower arm

Femur - this is the largest leg bone

Patella - the knee

Tibia - leg

Fibula - lower leg

Ribs - how many do you need to draw on each side
